

Teacher training for fuel cell challenge coming in September

August 1, 2012

While the exact dates have not yet been finalized, teacher training is being arranged in preparation for the November 18 New Mexico Hydrogen Fuels Challenge. The teacher training will take place on two Saturdays in September. One session is for elementary-school teachers, and the other is for high-school teachers.

LANL; Los Alamos National Security, LLC; Albuquerque Public Schools; Sandia National Laboratories; and PNM will sponsor the event.

If you're interested in the training and want to know the dates, please contact Janelle Vigil-Maestas at (505) 665-4329 or vigil-m@lanl.gov.
